

ASMCF POSTGRADUATE STUDY DAY
Saturday 13 March 2010

All postgraduates in French and Francophone studies are warmly invited to the annual ASMCF postgraduate study day on Saturday 13 March 2010, in Old Whiteknights House at the University of Reading.

The event is always useful for postgraduates, but, more than that, it is a genuinely enjoyable social occasion, with a good lunch and the opportunity to meet other postgraduates from across the country.

The morning will consist of informative presentations from postgraduates and from established academics on a variety of topics from using the Bibliothèque nationale, to getting published, to bagging your first job; during the afternoon, a number of postgraduates will present papers on their own research.

The day is equally valuable for postgraduates nearing the end of their studies, those somewhere in the middle, and those just embarking upon – or even considering doing – a PhD in French or Francophone studies.

- FREE for ASMCF postgraduate members
- £10 for non-members [But join the ASMCF for £10 and get the study day FREE as well as the other benefits of ASMCF postgraduate membership...]

Join the ASMCF here: <http://www.asmcf.org/membership/>

Contact Lindsey Dodd to register, or for any other information about the Study Day:
l.a.dodd@reading.ac.uk

Venez nombreux!

Hoping to see you in March,
Lindsey.

Lindsey Dodd
ASMCF Postgraduate Officer
l.a.dodd@reading.ac.uk